Camel's Back bridge

1891

Rebuilt 1992

1915

1985 Townwide Historic and Architectural Survey of Berlin, Connecticut

The Camel's Back bridge was built because too many people were killed in train accidents while crossing the tracks. The Bridge went up and over the tracks like a camel. Roads were closed and made dead ends including Burnham Street and Cashman Place.

Seven Sisters Bridge actually has 8 arches. Across from current Post Office alongside Kensington Road
